

TAILOR-MADE SOLUTIONS TO LOCAL NEEDS

Raccortubi Singapore made its debut at OGA 2017

As representative of Raccortubi Group in Southeast Asia, Raccortubi Singapore could not miss the opportunity to participate in OGA this year, being it a crucial event of the Petroleum Industry in the region.

Belonging to a leading group as Raccortubi is, means that the subsidiary can benefit from the competitive advantages the Group itself holds - a long-lasting expertise in production and a high flexibility in distribution.

Raccortubi Singapore, in fact, perfectly combines the quality of an Italian leading manufacturer with the expertise of the native sales force who is able to understand and fulfil the needs of the local customers. Not only can it benefit from the integrated butt weld fittings production located in Italy, but also it can guarantee clients high-quality, cost-effective, flexible solutions on short timescales.

Thanks to its large local warehouse, the company focuses on the stockholding and supplying of pipes, fittings and flanges in stainless steel, duplex, superduplex, 6mo, nickel alloys and titanium. With this, it provides customers throughout Southeast Asia with piping solutions for complete project packages as well as ex-stock material for maintenance and urgent requirements. This is possible for Raccortubi Singapore by taking advantage of the consistent stock replenishment allowed by its positioning within a Group that, on top of being a stockholder and supplier, is a manufacturer with a long-standing experience in the industry.

The strong Group's commitment to customer service excellence results in two further aspects. First, quality. The provision of fully-tested and certified products, which undergo multiple tests and controls carried out by the Quality Department at Raccortubi headquarters in Italy, guarantees the full compliance with the vast majority of Oil & Gas end-user requirements.

Then, custom tailoring. To cater to many different clients' necessities, Raccortubi Singapore can offer order personalization, including color coding, marking, extra testing and special packaging.

By enhancing efficiency for customers in the region, shortening lead times and providing flexible responses, Raccortubi Singapore plays a strategic role as local hub for the surrounding markets. $
