

Growth calls for new appointment

New managing director for Raccortubi Norsk

Raccortubi Norsk, the UK branch of Raccortubi Group based in Aberdeen, is appointing Andy Troup as managing director.

The internal reorganization at Raccortubi became inevitable after steady growth of the branch since its acquisition in 2015, and will promote, the company says, a further successful step in the history of the company.

Peter Ray will remain on the board of directors and will be actively focused, more than ever before, on the commercial relationship with key customers, frame agreements and complete projects handling.

Troup has been providing his contribution to the company for more than two years now, as business development manager, building a good knowledge of the internal offering of Raccortubi Group and developing important relationships with current and new customers, and at the same time progressively dealing with more operational issues.

"We are always fine-tuning our internal resources to support our continuous growth, aiming at providing the best service to our clients by guaranteeing continuity to Raccortubi Norsk's operations", said Luca Pentericci, president of Raccortubi Group. "We wish to thank both Peter and Andy for their commitment and for the new enthusiastic challenges ahead..."

The reorganization has already taken place and will be fully effective from January 1, 2020.

Raccortubi and Raccortubi Norsk

Since 1949, Raccortubi Group has been manufacturing, stocking and supplying piping materials for critical applications, such as chemical and petrochemical plants, power plants, shipyards, fertilizer plants and offshore platforms through its global distribution network. It provides pipes, tubes, butt weld fittings and flanges in austenitic stainless steel, duplex, super duplex, 6Mo, nickel alloys and titanium from stocks at distribution points in Italy, Brazil, Dubai, Singapore and the United Kingdom, being constantly replenished by the internal manufacturing of butt weld fittings at the two Italian production mills Tecninox and Petrol Raccord.

Raccortubi Norsk is an experienced stockholder of specialist piping materials for the oil & gas industry. Formerly known as Norsk Alloys, Raccortubi Norsk was acquired by Raccortubi Group in 2015 to extend its distribution network to the United Kingdom. With additional stock material and on-demand manufacturing at its disposal from Group headquarters and integrated mills, Raccortubi Norsk is, the company says, fulfilling customer orders quickly and cost-effectively.